BEACH GUIDE

KONA - KOHALA COAST

King Kamehameha Hotel Beach - The "King Kam" beach is a popular spot for both visitors and locals. The surf is calm so this is a great beach for young children. The sand is white and snorkeling is good. Be sure to see the Hawaiian temple (Ahu'ena Heiau) and King Kamehameha's last home. •Corner of Palani and Ali'i, access is past the restrooms on the pier; paid parking at the "King Kam"; some free parking around town.

Kailua Pier - The pier has no real beach (just wet sand) but is a great place for a quick dip in the afternoon, or a swim along the buoys for exercise. Bring binoculars to watch the boats come and go, and at dawn or dusk you may see outrigger canoe teams practicing .. In October the Ironman Triatheion starts here and triatheletes train here throughout the month. •Corner of Palani and Ali'i where the pier meets the seawall.

Hulihe'e Palace - The beach here is tiny but this is a nice spot to take a quick in-town dip. Watershoes are a good idea due to the coarse sand and rocks. Snorkeling behind the Palace is great. You'll see fish of all sizes as well as the occasional sea turtle. Before your swim, visit the Palace Museum for a look into Hawaiian history. •On Ali'i Drive next to the Hulihe'e Palace, at the south end of the sea wall.

White Sands Beach Park - Also referred to as "Disappearing Sands", this beach loses its sand during the high surf months, usually November through April. But the sand returns in Spring to produce a white sandy beach. This is a favorite boogie boarding spot and generally calm enough for novices. Bring a volley ball as a net is available. •South on Ali'i 4.4 miles. Parking available in the park or along the road.

Kahalu'u Beach Park - One of the best snorkel spots on the island with a huge variety of fish of all shapes and sizes. Bring fish food, an underwater camera, and a fish ID card along with your snorkel gear. The water's a little murky near shore but clearer out by the breakwater. A little lazy boogie boarding is also an option at the north end of the beach where it's sandy. •South on Ali'i 5.5 miles. Parking available in the park.

Napo'opo'o - Kealakekua Bay is a favorite spot for snorkel and dive cruises and kayaking because of the abundance of fish, sea turtles, and dolphins in the bay. The beach is rough but provides a good entrance for snorkeling. Be sure and bring an underwater camera and fish ID card. Captain Cook Monument is across the Bay. •Route 11 south 12.5 miles to right on Napo'opo'o Rd., then 4.7 miles to the end of the road.

Honaunau Bay - Another great snorkel spot. The water is clear and there is a huge assortment of fish. Children can explore the tide pools on the lava shore and there is a small sandy beach. Natural steps in the lava ease you into and out of the water. Water shoes and gloves are a good idea. •Route 11 south 19.0 miles to right on Route 160, then 4.0 miles to Place of Refuge Park. Right at end of guardrail just before Park.

Ho'okena State Park - The beach is black sand and the fish are abundant, so bring snorkel gear, a camera, and fish food. Watershoes are a must here. The surf can be rough so be careful, but there is good boogie boarding towards the south end of the beach. Also this is a favorite location for local outrigger canoe teams. •Route 11 south 21.5 miles to right at Ho'okena State Park sign, then 2.2 miles to beach.

Old Airport Beach Park - What used to be the Kona Airport is now a super beach for relaxing, picnicing, and exploring. Numerous tide pools contain a multitude of tiny ocean creatures including crabs, urchins, and small fish. Water shoes are advisable. Next to the beach is the old runway for endless biking or rollerblading. A playground and tennis courts are on the south end of the Park. •North on Kuakini Rd to the end.

Honokohau Harbor - A short hike across the lava brings you to a quiet, private sandy beach next to the harbor. Bring binoculars to watch the boats. Protected from the surf, this is a nice spot for relaxing, swimming, and exploring. A good spot for children and a great spot for you and someone special to bring a blanket and watch the sunset. •Route 19 north 2.5 miles to left at Harbor, then .7 miles to end of road.

Kaloko Park - An historic landmark with fishponds, heiaus, and petroglyphs, Kaloko Park is a great place to picnic and learn about the Hawaiian way of life. If calm, the snorkeling is good. If windy, bring binoculars to watch the local windsurfers. The beach is mostly lava and water shoes are a good idea. •Route 19 north 3.6 miles, to left across from Kona Trade Center, then .7 to park. Four wheel drive required.

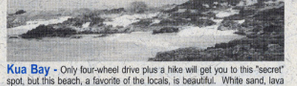

Natural Energy Lab - Near the airport this collection of shallow tide pools is a great place for plane watching, sunning, relaxing, and exploring. Bring your picnic lunch, your sun-screen, snorkel gear and water shoes, and spend the day. If you have four-wheel drive, a trail north past the rest rooms leads to several private sandy spots. •Route 19 north 5.7 miles to left at Energy Lab sign, then 1 mile to beach.

The Pines - Accessible from The Natural Energy Lab, The Pines is a long beach stretching south. Four-wheel drive is needed to venture very far, but the beach, a favorite camping spot of the locals, has areas for sunning, swimming, exploring and snorkeling, as well as advanced boogie boarding and surfing. There's lots of lava, so be careful. •Route 19 north 5.7 miles to left at Energy Lab sign, then 1 mile to dirt road on left.

Kona Coast State Park - The road is rough and not recommended for rental cars, but the trip is worth it. The beach has salt and pepper sand and is a nice spot for a swim or picnic, plus snorkeling, lazy boogie boarding, and seasonal whale watching. Stop just short of the Park and hike down the road behind the gate on the right to a nice private sandy beach. •Route 19 north 9.3 miles to sign on left, then 1.7 miles to Park.

Kua Bay - Only four-wheel drive plus a hike will get you to this "secret" spot, but this beach, a favorite of the locals, is beautiful. White sand, lava caves, a great view, and super surf are your reward for getting there. Swimming, sunning, and boogie boarding are all great here. Just don't forget to haul out what you haul in. •Route 19 north 12.0 miles to left just past cinder cone, then .7 miles to gate, then .3 mile hike to beach.

Anaeho'omalu Bay - A lovely family beach in the palms, comfortable and fun for young and old, Anaeho'omalu Bay is consistently calm, has nice sand, and the water is clear. Rent a wind surfer, or go exploring, swimming, or snorkeling. Bring your camera and your binoculars for seasonal whale watching. •Route 19 north 23.8 miles to left at Waikoloa, then .8 miles to left at stop sign (at King's Shops), then .3 miles to end.

Puako - Puako is an out-of-the-way beach which is very private and a favorite of the locals. Snorkeling is good if the surf is low and boogie boarding is great, but for the advanced boarders only. A little sand, and lots of lava and coral, so bring your water shoes to go exploring. •Route 19 north 29.7 miles to left at sign for Puako, follow road keeping left 3 miles to the end.

Hapuna Beach State Park - One of the nicest beaches on the Island and possibly anywhere, Hapuna has beautiful white sand, a clean sandy bottom, and great surf. Go snorkeling if the surf is low, and boogie boarding almost any time. Volleyball nets are available, as well as all the facilities, and a snack bar. This is a truly great spot. •Route 19 north 30.9 miles to left at Hapuna sign, then .6 miles to parking lot.

Kauna'oa Beach - This beach at Mauna Kea is a delightful spot with white sand, clear water, and moderate surf. The snorkeling is good at either end of the beach and this is a great place for children to boogie board. The beach is well maintained with nice facilities. •Route 19 north 31.9 miles to left at Mauna Kea sign. Get a beach pass at gate then follow road 1.3 miles to parking lot past the hotel. Four minute walk to beach.

Spencer Beach State Park - Always calm, Spencer Beach is a great spot for young children. White sand and clean facilities make this a popular beach for locals and tourists, and this is one of the few beaches where camping is allowed. Snorkeling is good to the south and sea turtles are often spotted here. •Route 19 north to the left at junction of Route 270, then .2 miles to left at Spencer Beach sign, then to beach.

The tournament will determine the country's best USTA women's and men's 2.5 level teams. More than 350 players are scheduled to compete in this round-robin tournament.

"Half Strung" advanced to the nationals by winning the Hawaii Pacific Tennis Association 2.5 championship. The team, which plays out of the Keauhou Beach Tennis Ranch, is made up of captain Mary Jane Kaipuka, Nancy Farnham, Judy Katahara, Molly Nakano, Myrna Nishihara, Kathleen Powers, DeeJay Underwood, Sherry Yamaguchi, Debbie Yamashiro, and Beverly Yamauchi.

The program is open to any USTA member 19 and older and provides the opportunity to improve skills, have fun, meet other players, travel throughout the country, and compete in a USTA national championship.
